

LIVING

wordoflife:
JULY 2026 EDITION

Dear Friend,

Forty years on the mission field has given me the incredible privilege of watching generations grow.

When I first answered God's call, I was focused on the children He had placed in front of us. Today, many of those children are adults with families of their own. Some are now raising children who know Jesus because someone invested in their parents years ago.

As a father, one of the greatest blessings of my life has been watching my own children choose to serve the Lord in ministry. That is something I never take for granted.

But what excites me even more is seeing a third generation rising up across Living Hope. Teenagers who have grown up surrounded by God's love, watching their parents serve faithfully and learning to trust Jesus, are now asking how they can give their own lives to His mission.

Sometimes I find myself praying that the Lord would allow me to live to be 80 years old. Not because I want to accomplish more, but because I would love to see my grandchildren, and perhaps even witness the beginning of a fourth generation serving Him.

Over the years, the words of Psalm 145:4 have taken on a deeper meaning for me:

"One generation commends your works to another; they tell of your mighty acts."

By God's grace, I have had the privilege of watching that Scripture come to life as one generation passes its faith on to the next.

My prayer is that this will continue for generations to come.

Thank you for being part of this journey. Your prayers, encouragement, and faithful support have helped invest in children whose lives are now impacting the next generation. Together, we have the joy of witnessing God's faithfulness from one generation to the next.

With gratitude,

Jerry McNally
